Where is that Chevrolet Sedan, worth $1028, going to find its home? What town or community can point to it with pride, knowing they were solidly behind their candidate in the Big Race? "Promises" have an empty sound now. Subscriptions given this week, not only help your favorite bring that Grand Prize to your territory but helps them win as high as $25 in cash extra, if given by Saturday night.

$50 in Special Prizes.
Five extra cash prizes are offered for results this week. It is so arranged that two of these prizes will go to workers living outside of Wetaskiwin, while two others will go to town.

To the candidate living outside of Wetaskiwin, the largest amount of cash for the week ending Saturday, October 3rd, we will give $15 cash. For the second largest amount we will give $5 cash.

To the candidate living in the city of Wetaskiwin turning in the largest amount of cash for the week ending Saturday, October 3rd, we will give $15 cash.

Council Mun. Dist. Bigstone Enters on Graveling Project

The Council meeting of M.D. of Bigstone 459 was held September 15, at Lone Ridge. Present: H. Arnold, Reeve; and Councillors G. Helmers, C. J. Hanson, M. H. Unland, O. P. Nelson and Herman Strohschein.

Minutes of previous regular and special meetings were read and adopted on motion by Coun. Helmers. The monthly statement was read and approved.

C. A. Davidson, Highways Commissioner, Dept. of Public Works, and J. T. Montgomery, M.L.A., were present and addressed the Council on the advisability of graveling the Wetaskiwin to Pigeon Lake road under the Dominion Government Relief Scheme. Mr. Davidson outlined the scheme whereby the Dominion Government would bear at least 35% of the cost, with a probability of more to come, and the balance to be absorbed equally between the Provincial Government and the Municipality. He pointed out the advantage to the Municipality of getting rid of the ever increasing burden of the upkeep of the road and that 80 per cent of the labor would be supplied by residents of the district. As this question had been discussed thoroughly by the Councillors at the special meeting on Sept. 2nd, the Council resolution was moved by Coun. Unland:

"Whereas this Municipality is facing a problem of relief for the coming winter and the scheme under discussion would supply work for many residents of the district,
"And whereas the present upkeep of the Pigeon Lake road through Divisions 4 and 3 is becoming too great a burden on the Municipality and it is estimated that the Municipality's share of the cost of construction and graveling under the above mentioned Scheme would not be more than its present cost of upkeep,
"And whereas the Provincial Government will take over the costs of all future maintenance and upkeep after construction,
"Therefore be it resolved:
"That the Council of the Municipal District of Bigstone No. 459, do authorize and instruct the Reeve and the secretary, and they are hereby authorized in the name of the Council to enter into an agreement with the Dominion Government and the Government of the Province of Alberta to proceed immediately with the construction and graveling of the Wetaskiwin to Pigeon Lake road across the Municipality and under the Relief Scheme as set out above.

The resolution carried, the vote being four for and two against. The highways commissioner, Mr. C. A. Davidson, then presented a preliminary agreement which was duly signed and sealed by the Reeve and Secretary.

The secretary laid before the Council a list of petitions by ratepayers asking that By-Law 36 re Hospital Agreement be brought to a poll. As over the required 15 per cent of ratepayers had signed these petitions, the following motion was made by Councillor Strohschein:

"That, polling on By-Law 36 re Hospital Agreement be held on Saturday the third day of October, 1931, and that the following be named as polling places and appointed as deputy returning officers:

Div. 1, F. H. Hall, J. Bldinger, D.R.O.
Div. 2, residence of A. A. Unland, A. Unland, D.R.O.
Div. 3, Falun School House, R. Cronin, D.R.O.
Div. 4, Brightview School House, Geo. Rimmer, D.R.O.
Div. 5, Hillside School House, D. Reay, D.R.O.
Div. 6, Pipestone School House, W. Porru, D.R.O.

The motion was carried.
Motion by Reeve that E. R. Hoskins be appointed as Returning Officer to conduct the plebiscite. Carried.

Motion by the Reeve that the following be the rates of pay in connection with the poll on By-Law 36: Returning Officer, $25.00; Deputy Returning Officers, $4.00 each; rent of polling places, $4.00 each.

GREATEST GAS WELL FOR 20 YEARS TESTED AT HAT

Medicine Hat, Sept. 29.—A rock pressure of 530 pounds and a flow of 4,000,000 cubic feet per 24 hours was shown Monday at the official test of the city's new gas well in the Porter's Hill district made by C. W. Dingman, Calgary government official. This is the biggest flow of any of the three wells drilled this year and reveals a pressure much greater than in any well drilled in the Medicine Hat district during the last 20 years.

C.G.I.T. GROUP ELECT OFFICERS

The junior group of the C.G.I.T. held their first meeting of the season in the club rooms of the United Church on Monday night, when the following officers were elected:

President—Alice Chappell.
Vice-President—Ethel Sharlow.
Secretary—Violet Bldinger.
Treasurer—Gladys Holby.

Miss Corbett has kindly consented to assist in the C.G.I.T. work this year and was given a warm and hearty welcome by the girls. They were also very pleased to welcome the new member, Joyce Schrag to their group.

A discussion of the work for the ensuing year then took place. When the girls were told that Mrs. Wynne had kindly consented to teach them had work again this year, they burst into such a hearty applause that it was not difficult to realize how popular Mrs. Wynne and her teaching is with them.

When the devotional program for the year was discussed they were told about Rev. Schrag's interesting illustrated lectures, which he has kindly consented to give at times during the season. Much pleasure was shown on hearing this, because most pleasing comments about Rev. Schrag's lectures had already reached the ears of the girls.

The girls and leaders of the group are very grateful to those people who have offered this kind assistance and are anticipating an interesting and instructive year in their C. G. I. T. work.

The meeting closed with the usual good-night taps.

The Scotchman said he loved Scotland because of the lighter overhead.

Municipal District Montgomery Votes in Favor Hospital

The vote in the Municipal District of Montgomery on Saturday last on the proposed new hospital for Wetaskiwin showed that the burgesses were overwhelmingly in favor, the vote being almost 3 to 1. On account of the very busy season, only a small number of the ratepayers voted on the proposal, as the figures were: For, 197; against, 54.

The vote on the hospital agreement takes place in the Municipal District of Bigstone on Saturday of this week, October 3rd, while the burgesses of Wetaskiwin will express their opinion on the proposed new hospital on October 14th.

PAPER ON WILLS READ AT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETING

About twenty-five members and visitors attended the meeting of the Wetaskiwin Women's Institute held last Thursday, and were enthusiastic in their plans for the coming season. Amusement and interest were shown in the stories told by the members of how they raised their talent money. Arrangements were also made to hold rummage sale on Railway Street East on Saturday, October 10th.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Ernest Switzer, Convener of Legislation, who read a splendid paper on Wills, showing the advisability of attending to this matter while in normal health, and also giving information on the laws governing them. Mrs. Condie, accompanied by Miss Marjorie Robinson at the piano, gave two delightful violin selections, and Miss Ethel Sharlow sang very sweetly "Kilmer's" which had been a competition number at the School Music Festival, in which she won a medal. Miss Florence French was her accompanist.

Afternoon tea was served at the close of the meeting by Mesdames A. R. Dickson and Frank George. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. McAllister, Mrs. John Arnold acted as secretary pro tem.

CHALMERS HARDWARE

INSTALLS AN ACROMETER

H. E. Chalmers took an important and advanced step a few days ago, when he had installed an acrometer in his office. The object of this instrument is to take any guess work out of tube testing, as it measures the capacity of each tube automatically. Radio experts found that 90% of the radio trouble could be rectified and with this object in view, the experts constructed the acrometer, which has proven to overcome difficulties in setting up radios and subsequent troubles. It is claimed that this new machine will detect and definitely locate all possible defects in radio tubes. As the acrometer is quite expensive, and seldom found outside the large cities, Mr. Chalmers is to be complimented on his enterprise in having one of these machines established in his store. See his advertisement elsewhere.

Edmonton, Sept. 19.—Special provision is being made by the Dominion government to pay a wheat bonus in the Peace River block of British Columbia. This will mean $25,000 to the farmers of that area, as it is expected they will have a crop that will equal the 500,000 bushels shipped last season through the elevators at Dawson Creek and Pouce Coupe.

Where is that Chevrolet Sedan, worth $1025, going to find its home? What town or community can point to it with pride, knowing they were solidly behind their candidate in the Big Race? "Promises" have an empty sound now. Subscriptions given this week, not only help your favorite bring that Grand Prize to your territory but helps them win as high as $25 in cash extra, if given by Saturday night.

Just a glance at the position of the workers above shows that the race is getting down to a grim fight with no one holding the lead long enough to stand out as an ultimate winner. Candidates from Falun, Route 2, Bittern Lake, Brightview and Coal Lake are giving the workers in Wetaskiwin a hot race and it is problematical as to which town or community is going to be the one most honored. All are very close, and many changes and surprises are to be expected during the coming week.

$40 in Special Prizes. Five extra cash prizes are offered for results this week. It is so arranged that two of these prizes will go to workers living outside of Wetaskiwin, while two others will go here in town.

To the candidate living outside of Wetaskiwin, turning in the largest amount of cash for the week ending Saturday, October 3rd, we will give $15 cash. For the second largest amount we will give $5 cash.

To the candidate living in the city of Wetaskiwin turning in the largest amount of cash for the week ending Saturday, October 3rd, we will give $15 cash.

Council Mun. Dist. Bigstone Enters on Graveling Project

The Council meeting of M.D. of Bigstone 453 was held September 15, at Lone Ridge. Present: H. Arnold, Reeve; and Councilors G. Helmers, C. J. Hanson, M. H. Unland, O. P. Nelson and Herman Strohschein.

Minutes of previous regular and special meetings were read and adopted on motion by Coun. Helmers.

The monthly statement was read and approved.

C. A. Davidson, Highway Commissioner, Dept. of Public Works, and I. J. Montgomery, M.L.A., were present and addressed the Council on the advisability of graveling the Wetaskiwin to Pigeon Lake road under the Dominion Government Relief Scheme.

Mr. Davidson outlined the scheme whereby the Dominion Government would bear at least 35% of the cost, with a probability of more to come, and the balance to be absorbed equally between the Provincial Government and the Municipality. He pointed out the advantage to the Municipality of getting rid of the ever increasing burden of the upkeep of the road and that 80 per cent of the labor would be supplied by residents of the district. As this question had been discussed thoroughly by the Councilors at the special meeting on Sept. 2nd, the following resolution was moved by Coun. Unland:

"Whereas this Municipality is facing a problem of relief for the coming winter and the scheme under discussion would supply work for many residents of the district,

"And whereas the present upkeep of the Pigeon Lake road through Divisions 4 and 5 is becoming too great a burden on the Municipality and it is estimated that the Municipality's share of the cost of construction and graveling under the above mentioned Scheme would not be more than its present cost of upkeep,

"And whereas the Provincial Government will take over the costs of all future maintenance and upkeep after construction,

"Therefore be it resolved: "That the Council of the Municipal District of Bigstone No. 453, do authorize and instruct the Reeve and the secretary, and they are hereby authorized in the name of the Council to enter into an agreement with the Dominion Government and the Government of the Province of Alberta to proceed immediately with the construction and graveling of the Wetaskiwin to Pigeon Lake road across the Municipality and under the Relief Scheme as set out above.

The resolution carried the vote being four for and two against. The Highway Commissioner, Mr. C. A. Davidson, then presented a preliminary agreement which was duly signed and sealed by the Reeve and Secretary.

GREATEST GAS WELL FOR 20 YEARS TESTED AT HAT

Medicine Hat, Sept. 29.—A rock pressure of 530 pounds and a flow of 4,000,000 cubic feet per 24 hours was shown Monday at the official test of the city's new gas well in the Porter's Hill district made by C. W. Dingman, Calgary government official. This is the biggest flow of any of the three wells drilled this year and reveals a pressure much greater than in any well drilled in the Medicine Hat district during the last 20 years.

C.G.I.T. GROUP ELECT OFFICERS

The junior group of the C.G.I.T. held their first meeting of the season in the club rooms of the United Church on Monday night, when the following officers were elected: President—Alice Chappell. Vice-President—Ethel Sharlow. Secretary—Violet Biddinger. Treasurer—Glady Holby. Miss Corbett has kindly consented to assist in the C.G.I.T. work this year and was given a warm and hearty welcome by the girls. They were also very pleased to welcome the new member, Joyce Schrag to their group.

A discussion of the work for the ensuing year then took place.

When the girls were told that Mrs. Wynne had kindly consented to teach them had work again this year, they burst into such a hearty applause that it was not difficult to realize how popular Mrs. Wynne and her teaching is with them.

When the devotional program for the year was discussed they were told about Rev. Schrag's interesting illustrated lectures which he has kindly consented to give at times during the season. Much pleasure was shown on hearing this, because most pleasing comments about Rev. Schrag's lectures had already reached the ears of the girls.

The girls and leaders of the group are very grateful to these people who have offered this kind assistance and are anticipating an interesting and instructive year in their C. G. I. T. work.

The meeting closed with the usual good-night prayers.

The Scotchman said he loved blondes because of the lighter overhead.

Kiwanis Is Vitalizing Force in Welfare of a Community

Dr. Stacey McCall, Past District Governor of the Western Canada District, was the principal speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon on Tuesday evening and his address was one of the most enlightening and interesting ever heard in Wetaskiwin. At the outset he regretted the illness of Dr. Gunderson, Vice-President, and also conveyed the greetings from District Governor Andy Whyte, who was unable to accompany him. The Doctor then referred to the organization of Kiwanis in 1915, which has had a marvellous development, and today there are nearly two thousand clubs, and about one hundred thousand members in Canada and the United States. He then referred to the vitalizing force in Kiwanis and to the work being done for the underprivileged child as well as to the major objectives of the Club. The Church is a vehicle of religious truth, and the Kiwanis and other social clubs have caught up the spirit of Jesus and they are making a greater contribution to community life which is made higher and stronger because of these ideals, and the national life is better. Nations are in deep distress, caused by the suspension of the gold standard, and we have fears for the future—fears of sickness, old age, unemployment and death. Many have insurance and pensions, but not adequate enough. We must face these problems in national life, and there is no organization better fitted to do this than Kiwanis and kindred clubs. There is an abundance of wheat in Canada, but there should be a better distribution and a better adjustment of affairs, so that the thousands of unemployed would not be starving. Something must be done to remove the fear and to know when positions are secure. The United States and Canada have settled all differences for over 100 years by arbitration. There is an opportunity in advancing the peace of the world. The Doctor referred to several countries which are prepared for war, as well as to the differences in Japan and China at the present time. We must have peace if at all possible. We are all responsible and Canada must stand for peace in the best and highest sense. Kiwanis must do their duty at this time, and help make conditions better. We must believe in the Master Builder of Nazareth, and if we have taken Him into our own lives, what better creed could be had at this time than the one He laid down two thousand years ago, and which has been caught up by the Kiwanis organization. No nation can live to itself. We are a brotherhood and we must make our contribution to the betterment of the country. Let us not lose sight of these ideals, and stand for all that is highest and best. Kiwanians Robert Pearson and Rev. Villett of Edmonton, also spoke briefly.

Mrs. H. G. Smith rendered a solo and Mr. Bull of Edmonton and Mrs. McMurdo were pianists. President John Fraser was in the chair. Miss host Smith provided a duck supper for the occasion.

PRESENTATION MADE TO DEPARTING MINISTER

On Sunday evening last, Rev. O. H. Miller, who has been pastor of the Swedish Lutheran Church here for a number of years, preached his farewell sermon, on the eve of his departure for Saskatchewan. A large number were present, and after the service refreshments were served in the church parlors, and a social time enjoyed. Mr. Lundell, in a short address, expressed the regret of the congregation in the departure of their pastor who had served so faithfully and so well for so many years. Leslie Liljedahl in a few well chosen words presented the minister with a fountain pen set, and Rev. Miller fittingly replied. He left on Monday for Saskatchewan, and all join in wishing him success in his new field of activity.

GLIMPSES OF BAFFIN LAND ARE GIVEN BY MRS. DEWEY SOPER IN ENTERTAINING LETTERS DESCRIPTIVE OF LONE LAND

The only white woman, so far as records reveal, with the exception of the lady mentioned in the "extracts" which follow, to ever spend a year in Baffin Land is Mrs. Dewey Soper, wife of the noted young geologist and explorer. Mr. Soper had previously spent several years in the lone Arctic region on survey and exploration work for the Dominion Government, and to his credit has been placed the discovery of the nesting place of the blue goose. It had been the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Soper to stay at Lake Harbour, Baffin Land, for two years from the time the Boothie landed there in September a year ago. However, uneasiness over Mr. Soper's health decided them to "come out" at the end of a year. They came by way of Churchill (from which point Mrs. Soper's narrative to her mother was posted) thence to Winnipeg and on to Ottawa. It was a keen disappointment to Mr. Soper to find it necessary to curtail his program and it is understood he hopes to return to his much-loved work at no distant date. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freeman (Mrs. Soper's parents) reside near Gwynne, Alberta, and through Mrs. Freeman's kindness, The Canadian has been permitted to publish parts of Mrs. Soper's entertaining diary.

Writing on September 20, 1930, just a year ago, Mrs. Soper says the Boothie, on which they arrived at Lake Harbour, Baffin Land, left a week ago, and they were not sorry as Mr. Soper was anxious to be about the business of building their home as, generally snow begins to fall about the end of September. The house, to be made as impervious as possible to the cold was double insulated and Mr. Soper's experience as a carpenter stood him in good stead. Native Eskimos helped with the construction work.

Note is made of a boat which arrived in the harbor on Sept. 19 with 35 walrus. Mrs. Bailey, the Anglican rector's wife, and Mrs. Soper, "with clothes-peg on their noses," went down to watch the animals being cleaned. The meat and fat of the walrus is used for dog feed while the skins are salted down and shipped out. The H. B. Co. paying nine cents a pound for the skins, which average 100 lbs. "Some of the walrus weigh more than a ton, and very looking brutes they are," remarks Mrs. Soper, vividly describing the odor from the walrus meat, and adds, "but it is wonderful what one can get accustomed to."

Mrs. Soper gives a brief description of the arrival of an Eskimo baby. She decided to visit the mother in the afternoon, the child having arrived at noon hour, only to find her washing clothes outside the house, with the baby on her back. The nursery rhyme concerning the "rabbit skin" to put the baby bunting "in" is carried out in practice by the Eskimo mother, who makes a rabbit skin bag for the baby and carries the small person in the hood of her "Kulltick," made amply large for the purpose. The families are very small, many couples being childless. It is not unusual for an Eskimo couple to adopt two or three children from others, who have been more fortunate, or as the writer remarks, "unfortunate, depending on one's viewpoint."

On October 1, Mrs. Soper narrates that she is busy painting the interior of the new house, and a few days later tells of the excitement of unpacking their furniture. The only item missing from among household supplies was a barrel of potatoes, but dedicated ones were available. So far as fresh meat was concerned, Arctic hare and ptarmigan (grouse), are mentioned. The unusually mild nature of the fall is noted, the sea still being open as well as the little brook behind the house, but a foot of snow provides fair snow-shoeing.

Mrs. Soper refers several times to their radio reception which she states is poor at Lake Harbour. Some good concerts had come through from Montreal and St. Louis, but Pittsburgh, the station that broadcasts to the north, was not very satisfactory. While she did not get the message from her parents on October 4, the boys at the police station did so. In stopping to get dinner, Mrs. Soper remarks on the simplicity of the task, "opening a series of tins," but adds that a pumpkin pie, made with egg powder, topped off the meal nicely.

On November 16, note is made that plenty of snow had fallen and skiing had been enjoyed on various occasions. The temperature had reached a maximum of nine degrees below to date. The village was very "quiet" the natives having all gone to their winter camps inland, to return around Christmas week and then leave again in a few days. On November 26, her "letter" notes the day as one suited to indoor sports—a gale blowing out-of-doors and snow coming down thickly.

The night of October 22 was unusually interesting for Mr. and Mrs. Soper, as messages came, through from both their parents' homes. The message to Mr. Soper was a sad one telling him of a severe injury to his mother when she was knocked down by a car at Preston, Ont. She speaks of their eagerness to hear from the "outside" world. Mrs. Soper, who is a trained nurse, mentions nursing one of the police boys, who had been bitten in the throat by a dog.

The little son of the family, Roland, had a birthday party on December 22, when he celebrated his third birthday. The thermometer registered 19 above zero on December 19, but in spite of the mildness the days were full due to the sun not raising high enough to top the hills.

"Christmas is over," Mrs. Soper chronicles on Dec. 27, "for another year and we had a really wonderful time considering where we are. Mrs. Bailey and I did all the baking, and we all met at the Hudson's Bay post (just twelve of us) at 6:00 p.m. We had chicken soup with cheese straws, first—no, to be correct, we first had a toast to friends from whom we were parted—roast ham with dressing and apple sauce, then on the cob, potatoes, carrots, turnips, cabbage (all from the except the "spuds") crusty buns, brown bread and pickles, and for the third course, jelly with Xmas cake, and for the fourth course, plum pudding, mince and pumpkin pies, and lastly, nuts, candies and fruit. After the native women had cleared out the dining-room, the largest in the village, we enjoyed a programme, to which everyone contributed. Then we all adjourned to our house for Santa Claus and a Xmas tree. Oh, the wonderful toys the little Soper had did get from the boys at the post, and he insisted on taking them all to bed with him. Mr. Soper's gift to his wife was a fur coat of Alaskan fawn skin, a pair of kid gauntlets and two white Arctic foxes. His native "moosa" and wife gave Mrs. Soper a blue fox. The Eskimos are very grateful for any kindnesses shown them but rarely make gifts, Mrs. Soper intimates.

On February 2, a real blizzard was raging at Lake Harbour, the weather having, however, been excellent unto that time. Note is made by the writer of having accompanied her husband on two survey trips after Christmas for which she was dressed in furs from head to foot. In another letter she speaks of her little son, having complete fur-play suits. She speaks of a ride behind the dogs as a good substitute for theatres and dances when one begins to feel the loneliness of the situation, and of her good fortune in having such a splendid woman companion as Mrs. Bailey, a very agreeable Scotch lady.

On Feb. 17, Mrs. Soper writes that in the final radio broadcast they received five messages and were delighted. In speaking of her little boy's health, mention of a croupy cough is made, and the nervousness it occasioned when it was realized that medical aid was nearer than 500 miles.

On May 3, Mrs. Soper intimates their intention of leaving as Mr. Soper had been suffering from severe headaches for some months, and it was thought wise to find out the cause of the trouble. Skiing and snow shoeing were being enjoyed at this date, and note is made of the ultraviolet, so strong that it was impossible to be out of doors without snow glasses. The little lad was tanned as dark as an Indian. An interesting item is to the effect that two of Mr. Soper's natives had brought in several caribou from inland and the fresh meat was a welcome change from the tinned varieties.

The white population of the village had been increased by four, a quartet of men having been shipwrecked one hundred miles to the north, and the police, hearing of their plight from the natives, went to the rescue. "So we are sixteen now," says Mrs. Soper, meaning sixteen white persons, two of them females.

On May 24th, Mrs. Soper writes birthday congratulations to her "dad" and reports a wonderfully sunny day at the harbour, which was spent on a picnic to the hills. A bare spot was found behind a big boulder where tea was made. The season's first flowers were seen on the trip. Purple saxifrage, a tiny mauve posy which grows close to the ground and blooms on the southern slopes with snow banks all around—Canadian.

CRANK CASE OIL HELPFUL HEALER SUNBURNED SWINE

"During the visit of Mr. G. S. Black, supervisor of boys' and girls' club work in the provincial dept. of agriculture to Cambridge this week, he was asked to name a cure for cases of sunburn among swine. The information is not likely to be required this year but may prove of value next year among pig raisers. Some very severe cases of sunburn were reported this season, and in one case the pig was so severely afflicted that its skin cracked and rolled back along its sides, its eyelids were burned away and its ears dropped off. Mr. Black advises that in cases of moderate sunburn, the application of ordinary crank case oil, obtainable free at almost any garage, is found to be beneficial. In very severe cases the application of buttermilk has been found to soothe and toughen the skin. It is recommended that the crank case oil should be poured from a can with perforated top while the pigs are feeding.

Could Not Check the Summer Complaint A Few Doses Did It

Mrs. B. Coulter, 918-11th Ave. E., Calgary, Alta., writes: "Last summer my youngest son was very bad with summer complaint, and everything he ate he would vomit, and he got so thin I became very much worried. I could not get the discharges checked, so I went to the druggist and he gave me a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry and told me it would stop the trouble if anything would. After I had given the boy the first few doses I noticed the discharges were being checked, and it was not long before he was well again."

COMMUNICATION

[We do not necessarily endorse the sentiments advanced by this or any other correspondent under this heading.—Ed.]

Editor, The Times.

Sir:

In your last issue Mr. Root continues to argue at great length against the New Hospital Scheme. While I do not intend to follow him through the devious byways of unimportant detail and petty fact finding, I want to point out that he is still, as always, avoiding the main issue. His argument is built upon the assumption that the present hospital can be retained, if we want to, yet he must know that this is not a fact.

The fact is: The present building has been condemned for use as a hospital. What are we going to do about it? Our Municipal Councilors have worked out a scheme (which they as business men consider satisfactory) to meet the situation. Full details have been given through your pages. Mr. Root opposes this scheme, but has absolutely failed to bring forward any alternative, though he has written thousands of words of criticism. Mr. Root says we can't afford a hospital. Can we afford to be without a hospital in Wetaskiwin?

As to the question of expense, I agree with Mr. Root that it is hard to pay taxes at present, but in a matter of public policy we should take a little larger view, and not let conditions of the moment cloud our judgment. Present conditions will not, can not, continue as bad as they are for very long. If they do, we shall have to build a new economic system, but we need a new hospital now. Let us take this opportunity to get it. In any case, our sick and injured must be cared for, and it will cost us more money to send them elsewhere.

On the other hand there are some positive advantages in building at the present time. Both materials and labor are cheaper, the work would give some employment, and there is at least a good chance that a share of the labor cost will be borne by the Dominion Government.

The cost of a proper building over a term of fifteen years will not fall heavily upon the average farmer with one or two quarters of land. Of course it will bear heavily upon big landowners, but that is one of the responsibilities which they incur when they acquire more land than they can use. It is about time that Mr. Root realized this. In spite of his high-sounding figures it is evident to anyone who can think that a district of the size and value of the proposed hospital area can easily build and support a suitable hospital. We may safely assume, also, that, when we have done so, we shall have sufficient intelligence to administer it properly, though Mr. Root appears to doubt this.

Next Saturday the ratepayers of Bigstone will be well advised if they follow the splendid example of Montgomery and vote decisively for the Hospital Scheme.

It is no time for delay. The circumstances call for action. To be without a hospital in Wetaskiwin would be unthinkable. Let us put human values first, and do our part.

Yours truly,

HENRY G. YOUNG, Milt.

STATES FARMERS TRYING TO AVOID DEBT PAYMENTS

Charges that Alberta farmers with $40,000,000 worth of book accounts and credits held against them by retail merchants, were marshalling their forces to avoid payment of these debts were aired at a meeting of retail merchants in Coronation by C. A. MacKay, provincial secretary of the Retail Merchants' association.

Mr. Mackay feared that the attitude of the farmers, sorely pressed as they may be at the present time, would eventually eliminate the merchant from the business fabric of this province.

Delegates at the meeting suggested that unfair advantage of the debt adjustment act was being taken by certain farmers to avoid payment of debts to merchants.

Prize-Winning Apprentices

Considerable interest has been aroused by the performance of four young apprentices at the Canadian Pacific Railway's Angus Shops, Montreal, who captured three first prizes and one second, between them, at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, 1931, in the exhibit of mechanical drawings and designs. The quartette are pupils of Charles Bulley, instructor of apprentices and John Burns, works manager.

Picture shows, left to right: C. R. Baddeley, 23, machinist apprentice since 1928, who took first prize in the Electrical Section, as a first attempt.

A. W. Faulconbridge, 23, joined as carpenter apprentice in 1925, took first prize in the Structural Section and second in the Steam Section in 1931 and first in Internal Combustion and third in Steam in 1930. In 1929, he was first in Steam and second in Structural.

Philippe Landry, 25, joined as shopboy in 1922 and became carpenter apprentice in 1925, took first prize in Internal Combustion, having been second in Structural in 1930 and second in Hydraulic in 1929.

M. Roehon, 19, machinist apprentice since 1929, captured first prize in the Electrical Section, as a first attempt.

Attitude of the farmers, sorely pressed as they may be at the present time, would eventually eliminate the merchant from the business fabric of this province.

Delegates at the meeting suggested that unfair advantage of the debt adjustment act was being taken by certain farmers to avoid payment of debts to merchants.

RED DEER LOOKS FOR FOUR-SIDED ELECTION FIGHT

Red Deer, Sept. 28.—There is every indication that the forthcoming by-election contest to be held soon in the Red Deer Riding will provide an exciting political battle.

At present, while very little has been announced definitely, it is thought that there will be four candidates in the field, Liberal, Conservative, U. F. A. and Independent.

Here and There

Ontario gold production for the half year to June 30 reached $20,000,000, the greatest on record. Indications are that the output for the full year 1931 will be well over $41,000,000 in value.

Working at the rate of a mile a day and employing a daily average of 450 men, completion of rockballasting in the Ontario district from Windsor to Smiths Falls on the Canadian Pacific tracks was announced recently.

Canadian hens are working much harder than their ancestors of ten years ago. In 1920, statistics show that 6019 birds produced an average of 122.1 eggs apiece. This average rose steadily until in 1930 it was 178 eggs per bird.

New Brunswick moose and deer will make their debut on the talkie screen this Fall while the famous moose calliope of New Brunswick guides will be recorded in sound for the edification of millions of patrons in thousands of theatres across the continent.

The site of the first cheese factory in Canada, located in Oxford County, Ontario, will be marked with a cairn as an historic site. It is said that the first cheese factories in Canada making butter and cheese, and the cheese produced exceeded 150,000,000 pounds yearly.

"Generally satisfactory," is the comment on wheat grading in the Prairie Provinces, according to reports sent in from the Agricultural Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Winnipeg. When the Prairie of Wales was virtually completed by the battle of September and rather than half of it was threatened at that time.

Playing spectacular golf, F. G. McPherson, of the Lumber City, Ontario, defeated Philip Farley, Ontario amateur champion, in a 9-hole match at the Prince of Wales, played at the Banff Springs Golf Course in September. Sixteen players from all over Canada and the United States, qualified for the title fight.

Award of three scholarships at McGill University to minor sons of Canadian Pacific employees has been made to M. M. Mudge, D. K. Gowans and Keith W. Shaw. The scholarships provide for five years' tuition in architecture and chemical engineering, also fees and books, and the recipients have taken their degrees as Bachelors of Science.

"We are coming to realize that most of our national problems have an international background and can only be solved by international co-operation," declared Hon. Vincent Massey, Minister of External Affairs, at Washington when sailing recently on the Empress of Canada at the head of the Canadian delegation to the forthcoming conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations at Shanghai, China.

"Jim" McKenna, dean of passenger travelling agents and friend of presidents, passengers and porters from Saint John to Victoria and from Montreal to New Orleans, with over 4,000,000 miles of railway travel to his credit, died recently at Quebec in his 79th year. His intimate knowledge of the Chinese whom he accompanied across Canada earned him the sobriquet of the "Chinese Ambassador" and "The Mandarin."

Rev. T. M. Revis has definitely entered the contest, as the Independent. The Liberals, it is understood, are putting up J. W. McDonald, K.C., of Macleod, the party leader. Conservatives are still undecided. Several names have been mentioned, in this party, but W. E. Payne, K.C., heads the list. The U.F.A. are keeping their intentions well guarded. At least four men have been mentioned as possible candidates. The number of names being rumored indicate that they have taken no definite action, in the selecting of their stalwart.

Conventions are being held by the various parties in October.

CRABAPPLE TREE BLOOMS - FOUR TIMES, GIVES TWO CROPS

Vegreville, Sept. 22.—The record set by the crabapple tree at Beaver Lodge, west by the board when a "transient" crabapple tree blossomed forth here for the fourth time this year. This tree has never been mulched, and it stands in the garden of Nicol McIntyre. This year, it first bloomed in April, and during May produced a crop that made 520 jars of jelly. Not satisfied, it blossomed forth again in June. This however, proved abortive. But nothing daunted, it bloomed again in all its glory in July and came through to maturity with a second bumper crop of well formed apples. Buds came again in August, and when the first frosts of early autumn fell, the tree for the fourth time this season, was again in blossom.

BRITAIN'S HIGH TAX RATE

How is it that Great Britain is compelled to tax her people so heavily in order to balance her budget? An income tax of twenty-five per cent is an exceedingly heavy one despite all the exemptions which are allowed for children and for the smaller incomes. And the burdensome levy is not due altogether to the high average of unemployment and the allowance which is made to the unemployed. It is true that this is a heavy drain upon the nation's wealth and it has been steadily increasing for the last few years. But the chief drain upon the nation's purse, so far as the taxes are concerned, is due to the tremendous war debt. The war debt, with its inevitable pensions and all other accompaniments,

THE POPULAR SCIENTIFIC FOOD—LIVER

(By Barbara B. Brooks)

Not long ago, the feeding of liver was found to have a very remarkable effect on people suffering from secondary anemia. Before this time anemia had baffled the medical profession; it had seemed almost incurable. But with this new discovery the disease became in some degree, controllable and the eating of liver became a fad. People began eating this meat at the suggestion of doctors or because they had heard or read of its merits.

Cal's liver is, of course, the best kind because of its delicate flavor and tender fibers. However, the less expensive types, the beef and pork, can be made very good with careful preparation.

It really is necessary for some housewives to know various ways of cooking this food because frequently as much as a pound each day is advised by the doctor in connection with the treatment of an anemic patient. No matter how good the food may be, if it is to be taken in such amounts, it will become monotonous unless it is tactfully prepared.

The new recipe for a steamed liver loaf is very good. It tastes very much like the "pate de fois gras" which is an imported preparation of goose livers.

Steamed Liver Loaf

1 pound liver (beef or pork, ½ lb. salt pork, 1 medium onion, 6 sprigs parsley, 2 eggs (beaten), 1 cup fine corn flake crumbs, ½ cup milk, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ cup liver. Put liver, salt pork, onion and parsley through food chopper twice. Add the beaten eggs, corn flake crumbs, milk and seasonings. Turn into greased pudding dish. Cover and tie waxed paper over the top. Steam for about three hours. Serve hot or cold. Yield: 8 servings.

Baked Cal's Liver

Select a fresh calf's liver weighing about three pounds. Have the butcher lard and roll it. Put it into a roasting pan, and roast for one hour in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.). Serve with a brown gravy.

Fried Liver and Bacon

1½ lbs. calf's liver, 6 slices bacon. Slice the liver into half-inch slices. Fry the bacon. When crisp remove from the frying pan. Sprinkle the slices of liver with pepper and salt and dredge with flour. Fry them in the bacon fat about ten minutes. When done, drain off all the fat, and serve garnished with the bacon. Liver may also be broiled.

Swift Current, Sask., Sept. 21.—Fire last night completely destroyed the seed cleaning and seed storehouse of the Dominion government experimental station here. The loss is estimated at more than $20,000 in actual money. In addition, however, seed developed in ten years of experimental breeding was destroyed and the value of this cannot be estimated.

Mrs. G. Writes: "My little nephew had taken his mother's powder puff and was in the act of powdering his face when his small sister, aged five, snatched it from him. 'You must do that,' she exclaimed; 'only ladies use powder. Gentlemen wash their selves!'"

PONOKA WON RED DEER

CITIZENS' CUP FOR FOOTBALL

The final for the Red Deer Citizens' cup was played on the Ponoka ground on Tuesday, the 22nd, Wetaskiwin and Ponoka being the opposing teams. Games between these two teams this season have invariably provided a close encounter and this one was no exception. Unfortunately Wetaskiwin were unable to field a full team, several players being unable to get to the game.

Ponoka won the toss and elected to play down hill and were speedily in Wiltshire's neighborhood, but Wetaskiwin's goalkeeper was in first-class form and cleared his lines repeatedly.

A breakaway on the left for Wetaskiwin left McGuire in possession. He put across a nice centre which Ponoka's goalie just pushed out, and R. Farnham running in, met the ball and scored a nice goal for Wetaskiwin. Play now became very fast, and soon Matthews at outside left for Ponoka received the ball in a favorable position and with a hard cross shot, brought the scores level. In about two minutes a mis-kick by a Wetaskiwin defender let Mitchell through, and taking the ball right into the goal mouth he gave Wiltshire no chance, and Ponoka were two up.

Wetaskiwin came back strongly and Albert Lidgett with a nice shot again brought the scores level and half time arrived with the score 2-2.

The second half was much slower. Lack of condition was telling on the Wetaskiwin players and Ponoka had the best of the argument, and midway through the half Ponoka again scored from the left wing. During this half Wiltshire made some remarkable saves and was given generous applause by the spectators. In spite of some great efforts by the Wetaskiwin boys, they were unable to pierce a very strong defence put up by Spink and Co., and the game ended with the score Ponoka, 3; Wetaskiwin 2. Ponoka thus winning the cup.

Wetaskiwin line-up: Wiltshire; Turkington and Dixon; R. Maxwell, J. Lidgett, A. Lidgett; R. Farnham, A. Lidgett, R. Wallis, McGuire and H. Callum.

Referee: J. Robertson of Ponoka.

W.C.T.U.

"An International petition for world disarmament is being circulated simultaneously, not only in English, French and German, but in many languages and countries, and it is to be presented to the next International Disarmament Conference, which is to meet in Geneva in February, 1932.

The keynote of the declaration is: The nations have renounced war; let us also renounce the instruments of war. Competition in armaments, in leading all countries to ruin without bringing them security. Wars in the future will be wars of indiscriminate destruction of human life. Government's assurances of peaceful policy will be valueless as long as these measures of disarmament are delayed that should be the first result of the pact for the renunciation of war. According to a report sent out the first of the year in England alone more than 200,000 signatures had already been secured, and they were coming into the office of the Women's International League at the rate of 2,000 a day. The Dominion Board of W.M.S. of the United Church have endorsed the petition and will have it sent forward to all the local organizations of the Society. In Winnipeg 1500 petition forms have been sent out. In Ontario at the annual convention of the United Farmers the petition was endorsed and sent out to 500 farmers' clubs throughout Ontario. The petition will be circulated among all the W.C.T.U.'s of the Dominion. Unless there are millions of signatures from all over the petition will not be successful. It is the ordinary people of the world who bear the brunt of war; it is they who were disillusioned by the Great War and it is they who have the opportunity of supporting this declaration—men and women over 18 years of age, a million or several million voices the world around clamoring for disarmament, could make themselves heard."

—Julia I. Rowe, Supt. of Peace and Arbitration W.C.T.U.

Our local W.C.T.U. has been asked to co-operate with other societies in circulating this petition. Accordingly, as one means of securing signatures, copies of the petition have been sent to the different clergymen of the district. It has been decided to observe October 11th as Peace Sunday in this district.

WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

The following is a weekly report from the Edmonton Stock Yards as supplied to The Times for the week ending Sept. 29th:

Receipts: Cattle, 609; calves, 272; hogs, 2366; sheep, 785.

Receipts so far this week have been light and the quality of the offerings decidedly on the plain order. This has created a somewhat draggy, slow market. Trading is none too brisk and salesmen are not clearing their offerings any too readily. Prices on the whole are holding barely steady with a weak undertone noticeable, especially on heavier cattle.

Choice lightweight cattle on the feed calf order quoted at $5.00 to $5.25, bulk of the good to choice butcher steers $4.00 to $4.50, medium $3.25 to $3.50 and common to fair $2.50 to $3.00. Good to choice mediumweight heifers $4.00 to $4.50 medium $3.25 to $3.50. Good heavies $3.00 to $3.25, common to fair $2.50 to $3.00. Good to choice cows $2.50 to $3.00, medium $2.00 to $2.50 and common to fair $1.50 to $2.00. Canners and cutters 75c to $1.25. Bulls $1.25 to $1.50.

There is a good demand for all classes of stocker cattle of the better quality. Plain kinds are inclined hard to move. Prices on all classes of stockers remain about steady and unchanged. Steers and heifers generally at $3.00 to $3.75. Cows $2.00 to $2.50.

There is no material change noticeable on the calf market. Good to choice vealers selling at $5.00 to $5.00, common to medium $3.50 to $4.50.

Hog market lower. No carloads so far this week. Locals and trucked-in selling at $4.10 for the hogs. Selects bringing a premium of 50c per 100 and butchers discounted 50c per 100. Choice light feeder hogs 100 pounds and under are selling at $4.00 to $4.25. Cuts on the off-grade hogs are as follows: Heavies discounted 75c per 100, lights discounted $1.00 per 100, extra heavies discounted $1.00 per 100, No. 1 sows discounted $1.00 per 100, No. 2 sows discounted $1.25 per 100, roughs discounted $1.25 per 100 and stags discounted $2.00 per 100.

There is no material change noticeable on the sheep market. The bulk of the offerings are on the plain order. Prices remain fairly steady. Lambs quoted at $4.75 to $5.50, yearlings $3.00 to $4.00 and ewes $2.00 to $3.00.

Sinking, Smothering Sensations FRIGHTFUL DREAMS

Miss Myrtle Orwald, Tuffnell, Sask., writes: "Having been bothered with a nervous headache my nights were tormented with frightful dreams and horrible, sinking and smothering sensations, and I would get up in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed, but now, after having used three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I find the relief so great I can now get perfect rest at night, and not be tormented with those sinking sensations."

Price 50c. a box at all druggists and dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GROWING, SELECTION AND PREPARATION OF GRAIN AND SEED FOR EXHIBITION
(Copyright, 1931).
By HERMAN TRIBLE

Article No. 6 HOW TO SHRINK AND HARDEN A SHOW SAMPLE OF SEED

When the exhibition seed is completely threshed and separated into one mass, bulk sample and when we begin the further processing of the select seed, we shall have rounded the corner, passed the middle mark and are away for a good start down the home stretch to a completed World Show exhibit.

For best results and conservation of time and labor, this last, most controlled stage should be systematically divided and executed into four progressive steps, in the following order: First, the further shrinking, hardening, moisture reducing and unifying step; second, reducing the volume of the sample by uniforming the size and shape of the seeds by the use of screens and other simple methods and appliances; third, selecting the best time when the sample is ready for hand-picking; and fourth, the final "setting" and finishing of a beautiful sample.

By this systematic process which adapts itself harmoniously to nature, the writer has done away with most of the drudgery of useless hand-picking, etc. In a few words this system resolves itself into reducing the exhibition sample from a carefully constructed larger volume of quality seed, and not the flimsy idea that it is possible to hand-pick, for example, the 900,000 individual kernels to be found in a fifty-pound World Show sample of wheat, from or a damp moisture condition, one must resort to artificial protection, for exhibition seed, to compensate this harmful change. This can always be found in one building or another on any farm. Therefore, at this time, it is at once apparent that the prize bulk seed must be placed, in contact with healthful air in order to attain the best natural balance which will not mar the seed's attractiveness or germinating properties (vitality) immediately after it has been separated from the mother plant.

If mother nature had her choice, however, she would not process the seeds any further, but hold her seed fair right now to this time, in the natural open air, when the seeds are in their natural state and not interfered with by man. But man is artificial and decides to show nature's products in artificially, unnaturally reduced masses, assembled together for comparative judgment, in an unnatural "hot house" show room. So, in order to meet this artificial condition in the healthiest and best possible way, man must resort to further artificial means, in order to further reduce the moisture content, and further shrink and harden the prize bulk seed to a point of equilibrium that will harmoniously adapt itself to this unnatural show room condition.

After years of experimenting, and testing, and making mistakes, the writer has found that there is no dry atmospheric condition to be found economically better adapted than that of the normal, healthful home, or any building in which the temperature can be controlled around 70 degrees F. in which to complete the processing of show samples, and in which to "fix" them so that they will stand up to the best advantage under these artificial show room demands. Remember, World's Show samples will be exposed under observation and out of the exhibitor's control for five months before the final awards are made, and Regina's normal atmosphere condition can safely be considered dry, and really warm during this period.

Proceed as follows, and considering the information in the previous articles, the following methods can safely be applied to every seed listed in the World's Show prime list. Take the bulk, wind separated seed and divide it into clean, strong, common grain sacks. Securely tie each sack after filling them about half full of the larger, coarser seeded varieties (wheat, barley and peas, and more than half the quantity of the smaller seeded varieties (timothy, clover and alfalfa). Stand all the sacks side by side in the coolest place in the house. A good dry cellar is o.k. Do not pile the sacks one upon the other.

Spread a cover over the whole assembly so that there will not be a too rapid rise in temperature. Next move the sacks into a normal temperature where you intend to work on them. Reverse the sacks by turning them upside down, and again cover them for a day. After this the cover may be left off, but at least twice a day, and at regular intervals, shake the sacks and reverse them. As this regular reversing process continues the seed is slowly, safely, surely and gradually absorbing moisture and more, while the hardening content is becoming less, and less, and approaching nearer and nearer to that of the dry surrounding atmosphere—a comparative condition to that of Regina's massive World's Grain Show room.

There is absolutely no danger of damaging the exhibition sample if this somewhat monotonous, rhythmic, reversing process were to go on indefinitely, but a break must be made to reduce the volume of the sample and begin building up the finished show product. So, in about a week

ON BEING DEAF
"How does it feel to be deaf?" new acquaintances often ask me. I have a ready reply, "Oh, quite exhilarating." I tell them.

They laugh feebly, supposing I am trying to be funny. But though they can see only paths in deafness, my reply is reasonably sincere, for I have discovered to my own satisfaction that silence is not a total calamity and that it tends me over, to lead into diverting situations.

Of course, my deafness carries with it certain disadvantages. For one thing, my choice of possible occupation is seriously circumscribed. My opportunities for preference are fewer. I find it harder to strike up satisfying intimacies and friendships; and there is a profound sense of loss in being unable to hear any form of melody.

There are other disabilities, but in spite of them I laugh at silence. Or, more accurately, I find myself precipitated repeatedly into situations that compel my risibilities.

To illustrate, I was a visitor alone in a mid-Western city some years ago and a Sunday afternoon found me strolling the sidewalks and wondering dully how to pass a dull day. Arrived at a street intersection I was about to cross over when a tap on my shoulder made me turn about to confront a policeman. He said something or other, which as nearly as I could judge was a casual remark. So I nodded my head in friendly agreement and smiled pleasantly exactly as if I understood him. Then I started again across the street.

This time a more emphatic tap halted me. He spoke again, but I failed to comprehend. However, I knew my little pantomime well; I nodded and smiled even more

The kernel will have safely reached a hardness when one can plan reducing the volume to at least half, but no less than twice the volume of the final sample, by a quick screening process that will scalp the larger kernels off the top and most of the smaller and thinner kernels from the bottom of the mass sample. The usual wire and zinc screens found on the average farm may be used for this rough, first screening.

In a later article the writer will give more detailed and exacting sizes and methods to use for the various important kinds of show seeds.

This "airing" of the sample has a tendency to help quicken the hardening of the kernels, after which no time should be lost in getting into sacks where the reversing process can again be safely resorted to, at least twice a day in order to further harden the skin and shrink the kernel.

Caution: Judging from observation at any major seed show, most exhibitors are inclined to be over anxious. The processing and manipulating of beautiful seeds before the skin is in a condition to stand it has irreparably damaged what would otherwise have been a winning sample. Do not be too impatient in waiting until the seeds have reached a hard, "set" and uniform state when they may be safely manipulated in a more exacting and finished way.

This will be described in more detail in the next article.

Then I started again across the street.

This time a more emphatic tap halted me. He spoke again, but I failed to comprehend. However, I knew my little pantomime well; I nodded and smiled even more engagingly than before, and essayed once more to cross the street. With disconcerting quickness I was firmly grasped and whisked in a patrol wagon to the police station. It developed that I had obstinately persisted, in an attempt to commit a traffic violation.

"Do you know that you must obey the lights here, sir?" the officer had inquired very civilly. To which I had nodded affirmatively and attempted to proceed. "Here, you, do you think you can get away with that?" he had next demanded, bellowing.

Again I had nodded, with extra emphasis, and had smiled upon him in a way which he misinterpreted. As I stepped off the curb for the third time my arrest followed.

The joke was undoubtedly on me, and we all enjoyed a satisfying laugh. A plain clothes man, off duty, suggested a cafe, and my problem of how to pass a dull afternoon was solved.

Perhaps you wonder why, when the officer first addressed me, I did not tell him at once that I was deaf, and thus avoid the ensuing complications. That was because of a peculiar psychology. The deaf man's affliction is a very real thing but it is mercifully concealed from the casual gaze. That in itself is a vast comfort and he tries diligently to improve upon it.

Therein lies the motive which impels the deaf to grasp at so illusive an art as lip-reading. The accomplished lip-reader whose proficiency is not due to a considerable amount of residual hearing, is merely an amazingly good guesser. The fundamental fact is that he can hope at most to seize upon two or three basic words in a spoken sentence; to rest he must supply himself as best he can by intuition or by sheer good luck.

The luck is not always good, however. During an interview a newspaper reporter asked me one question in particular that will linger long in memory. "Do you drink?" he inquired blandly. "Life," I answered impressively, "would be intolerable to a deaf man without it."

I was stunned when this conversation appeared in the paper. As a lip-reader I had innocently supposed that he had asked me merely "Do you read?"

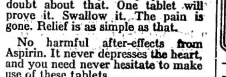

So far as visible movement of the lips is concerned there is not a particle of difference between the words drink and read when casually uttered, although they sound so dissimilar to the ear. But what is more to the point, the number of such words in the language is truly confounding.

The general public knows surprisingly little about the deaf. Consider the ingenuity with which deaf mutes habitually surmount the ordinary obstacles in their daily existence. I am often questioned about so simple a matter as the door bell; I open my door in answer to a ring and am confronted by a stranger. He presents a vacuum cleaner or a clothes brush and discourses fluently.

I interrupt him to tell him that I am totally deaf and cannot hear a word. He is nonplussed. Suspiciously he eyes me from head to foot. "Say, if you are deaf, how did you hear me ring your door bell?" he demands triumphantly.

I close the door upon him and laugh softly. The answer is, of course, that I did not hear the bell. I have contrived a little arrangement of my own. When my bell button is pushed it lights a number of incandescent bulbs distributed at strategic places throughout the house and their flash is infallibly visible. There are other arrangements that are equally adequate, such as dropping of a weight upon the floor, or the waving of a bright colored cloth.

An understandable curiosity requires that something should be said about the little understood sign language. I have met deaf travellers from Russia, from Turkey and from China, and although they did not know a syllable of English and I as likewise ignorant of their national tongues, yet we conversed together with satisfying ease. This was possible because the sign language is ideographic; its facile gesture do not represent words but mental images or pictures. Some of the signs are pure pantomime. Externally used, the language conveys the meaning with the vividness of the motion picture.

Educators of the deaf have united to oppose the extension of the language, believing that it is detrimental to the acquisition of good English, and nowhere is it now formally taught. In spite of this it is used the world over, wherever genuinely deaf people congregate.

It is difficult for the person with normal hearing to realize that the deaf cannot hear their own voices. In the stress of great mental excitement they are apt to produce strange throaty sounds without being at all aware of the fact. A little company of mutes was once assembled in a hotel bedroom, conversing animatedly in the sign language. Meanwhile a strange bedlam of noises issued from their throats.

Outside in the hallway a colored porter happened to be passing, and he paused in surprise before their door. There were gruesome grunts, weird whistles, and ghoulish moans such as he had never dreamed existed; he screwed up his courage to investigate.

Gently he rapped upon the door. There was no response and the unearthly sounds continued undiminished. He knocked a second time, with more insistence, and still the medley assailed his ears through the unopened door.

OSTEOMYELITIS

Suffering, crippling and sometimes death make up the price we pay for neglect or delay in securing treatment for certain conditions. Early treatment is truly preventive in that it prevents the development of the more serious and sometimes fatal conditions.

It is in the early treatment of tuberculosis and cancer that we place our hope in dealing with cases of these diseases. Appendicitis continues to be a major cause of death because it is not brought under treatment early or, worse of all, it is treated with a dose of castor oil.

Osteomyelitis is an acute infection which occurs in a bone. It develops quickly and in each year the cause of loss of life or of extensive injury because treatment is not secured at once. In a disease of this type, which develops so rapidly, the delay of even a few hours leads to serious or fatal consequences.

Pain in a child's arms or legs should always be regarded seriously. There is no such condition as "growing pains"; children do not have pains or aches just because they are growing.

When a child has pains in the extremities, the child should be examined in order to find out definitely and without delay what is the cause of the pain. Pain does not occur without a cause. It is the danger signal which nature uses to inform us that something is wrong.

Osteomyelitis is usually preceded by an injury which may be only slight. This injury apparently lowers the resistance of the affected area, and germs, which are of the type which cause infection have their chance to gain a foothold. The germs multiply rapidly, first of all causing inflammation, then pus and finally destruction of tissue. Unless proper treatment is given promptly, the patient is simply overwhelmed with the poisons produced as a result of the activity of the germs.

The germs are carried to the part affected in the blood stream. They may come from any part of the body in which they have been lodged, such as a boil, an infected throat, or an infected blister on the heel. The germs are there, and when the opportunity offers, they cause terrific damage if treatment does not intervene.

In most cases the pain comes on suddenly and is severe. The most common location is near a joint of one of the long bones. The spot is tender and there is fever. It is at this time that treatment should start. Later on come redness, swelling and all the usual signs and symptoms of infection with its serious results of having delayed treatment.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years the standard with physicians everywhere. Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—prescribed by physicians in correcting excess acids.

Obituary

MRS. EASTERBROOK

A gloom was cast over the village on the evening of Thursday last, when it was learned that Carrie Flemming, beloved wife of James Easterbrook, had passed to her reward after a prolonged illness. Mrs. Easterbrook, who came to Millet in 1924 with her husband, resided here permanently until about a year ago, when she moved to Wetaskiwin, where she lived until the time of her demise.

The late Mrs. Easterbrook was in her 78th year, and was born at Flamborough, Ontario. About fifty-five years ago she became the bride of James Easterbrook, with whom she passed the remainder of her life's journey.

The funeral, held in Millet United Church on Friday afternoon, was attended by a large number of friends, who assembled to pay their respects to the departed. Rev. H. G. Smith conducted the service at the church and the graveside, speaking words of comfort and hope to the bereaved family, choosing his text from Rev. 22, "There shall be no night there."

Messrs. West, Robt. Elder, Wm. Elder, Pliny, Inglis and Wolfe, all friends and neighbors of the family, acted as pallbearers.

Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Aikens sang two duets "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "My Father Knows," while the hymns "Rock of Ages," "The Sands of Time Are Sinking," and "Peace, Perfect Peace," were rendered by the choir.

The floral tributes were especially beautiful, testifying to the esteem with which the deceased was regarded by her many friends, and were: The Family, Bill and Elmo Easterbrook, the Barr Family, the Swedish Mission Church, Wetaskiwin, while the floral decorations of the church were provided by the Ladies' Aid, the choir and congregation of the United Church.

Mrs. Easterbrook leaves to mourn her loss, her sorrowing husband, and one son, Fred, and family, residing in Millet, to whom the community expressed their most heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of bereavement.

FARMER DECEIVED BY TRUCK DRIVER WITH NERVE

While we cannot vouch for the veracity of the following story, which was told in all sincerity that it really happened, and here it is:

A lone driver of a truck was proceeding south on the main highway recently between Movers school and Disbury, and when opposite a number of sheep which were grazing near the road, the driver halted for a second or two and then backed the truck into the ditch that happened to be shallow at that point. This took place near a farm house, and the owner of the farm, on looking through a window of his home, noticed a stranger trying to count up the sheep and was experiencing some difficulty. The farmer man went out to ascertain the cause of the unusual scene, and as he walked up to the sheep-herder he was halted thus: "I'm in a d— of a fix; these d— sheep I was taking to market have jumped the truck," and asked the farmer to help him re-load.

Not recognizing his own stock, the farmer proceeded to help the man in distress and the sheep were finally corralled safely into the truck, and with a "thank, old chap," the truck-driver soon disappeared for an unknown destination. At night Mr. Farmer counted his sheep, his flock being the seven head short he had so kindly helped the man with unlimited gall to get away with so smoothly—Olds Gazette.

COMPARISON OF CANADIAN INCOME TAX AND THAT OF GREAT BRITAIN

Ottawa Sept. 28.—A comparison between the Canadian income tax rates and the new taxes imposed on the British people by the Snowden budget reveal graphically the burdens to be shouldered in Great Britain. A Canadian income of $3000 pays no tax; in Great Britain it will be $243.333. On $4000, the Canadian tax is $18; in Great Britain, $446.61.

The peak in income taxes was reached in Canada between 1920 and 1924. At that time a $3000 income was taxed $40, and the assessment on $5000 was $125.

The Snowden budget increased the tax rate, lowered the exemptions, and added 10 per cent to the graduated surtax. Canada has no income surtax.

In the years 1920-24, Canadians paid the highest income tax rates in the history of the country. Except on the very highest incomes, however, the rates were considerably lower than the taxes imposed at the present time in Great Britain. An income of $50,000 was assessed $9,649.50 in Canada, while the British tax will be $18,891.78. The Canadian impost on an income of $500,000 was $115,349, but the British tax will be $229,882.07.

RECENT TRIALS IN STEER FEEDING

(Experimental Farms Note)
In view of the reduced prices of grain, and of enquiries received concerning the values of certain grains fed alone to steers, trials were laid down for the winter of 1930-31 at the Dominion Experimental Station at Scott, Sask., to compare wheat, rye, barley and oats. Each kind of grain was ground and fed alone, and a fifth lot of steers was fed a mixture of equal parts of each of the four grains for a check upon the other lots. The only roughage used was cut straw. The trial covered a period of 142 days from December 3 to April 24. Grade yearling Hereford steers were used, all of which were purchased at the same ranch in Alberta. The groups were divided as equally as possible according to individual weight and type. Individual weights were taken once-per-month. The average gains per head for the 142 days were wheat, 215 pounds; rye 237 pounds; barley 206 pounds, and the check lot 230 pounds. Care was taken to obtain rye which was free from ergot, and the results of this experiment should not encourage the use of rye that is not clean.

During this period were wheat 60 pounds; rye 44 pounds; barley 47 pounds; oats 63 pounds, and the check lot 52 pounds. The total average gain per head from December 3 to June 5 was 254 pounds per head, but the steers were not well finished. The oat straw used as roughage was rather ripe and dry and may have curtailed the gains to a certain extent.

"You've been married three times," said a young fellow here who is contemplating matrimony, to an old married man, "tell me which of your wives did you like the most?" "Just bite three lemons, one after another, and see which is the sweetest," was the reply.

Out of town transit companies are now paying license fees to the town of Drumheller which is only just and fair to those who pay business and other taxes. The license fee is $40. Why does not the Wetaskiwin council do likewise?

If even a few friends of The Times will only remember us from week to week in a little way, it will help amazingly to make this paper much newer and therefore that much better from the real test of a paper, the subscriber's standpoint.

CELEBRATES SEVENTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY

A jolly time was had at the home of Mrs. E. Groves on Friday, September 25th, when she celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday. In the afternoon her "Old Time" friends were present, Mrs. Dowler, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Higginson and Mrs. Alkens from Millet, and Mrs. Wybert and daughter Mrs. Harris, formerly of Wetaskiwin, and Mrs. D. Morrison of Wetaskiwin.

The birthday cake was a brilliant spectacle on the centre of the table, with its seventy-five pink and blue candles. A beautiful bouquet of pink carnations, a gift from her neighbors, helped to give the table a festive appearance.

In the evening, about forty neighbors and friends of the family gathered to wish her many happy returns.

EXPLOSION ROCK'S EDMONTON HOME, TWO ARE INJURED

Edmonton, Sept. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCarty, 1032 190th street, were badly burned about the arms, face and chest when an explosion which occurred in their home at 8:25 p.m. on Saturday caused a fire of considerable magnitude.

According to police reports, the explosion is believed to have been caused by leaking gas as a hole was found in the main by the sidewalk near the front of the house.

Mr. Perkinson: "Do you act towards your wife the way you did before you married her?"

Mr. Livingston: "Exactly. I remember just how I used to act when I first fell in love with her. I used to lean over the fence in front of her house and gaze at her shadow on the curtain, afraid to go in. I act the same way now."

Sweet Thing (disgusted): "My boy friend has cold feet."
Fond Auntie: "Shame on you, young lady. In my day we didn't find out those things until we were married."
